4. Sardinia

Sardinia is the second island of the Mediterranean Sea: its territory measures 24.090 km and it is situated between the 38° 51' 52" - 41° 15' 42" latitude North and 8° 8' - 9° 50' Longitude East. Positioned in the center of the West Mediterranean Sea, it's only 12 km far from Corsica, 120 from Tuscany, 185 from the coasts of North Africa. Its coasts have a total length of 1.849 km. The climate is generally mild, influenced by currents of air coming from Atlantic Sea, Africa, Arctic. The weather is clear: during the whole year there are about 300 sunny days and the remaining are rainy days, with a higher concentration of rainy days during winter and autumn time and some unexpected storms during spring time. The island is very windy, and the prevailing wind is Mistral, from North-West. Fresh and biting in winter, it mitigates the hot summer, making the air drier and breathable.

For what concerns the administrative aspects, Sardinia is one of the five Italian Regions with a Special Statute. As Sicily, Valle D'Aosta, Trentino Alto Adige and Friuli Venezia Giulia, it has a large political and administrative autonomy. Its population counts 1.599.511 inhabitants (ISTAT 2001), distributed over a territory of 24.090 km with a low density of population (69 inhabitants/skm as average, which becomes only 60 in the Province of Oristano and 39 in the one of Nuoro). The inhabited places are prevalently small. One Commune out of four doesn't exceed 1.000 inhabitants, while the 68% has less than 3.000 inhabitants. About the 25% of the total population is concentrated in the city of Cagliari and its suburbs.

The Rally d'Italia Sardegna 2008 will take place in the provinces of Sassari, Olbia-Tempio and Nuoro, especially in the territory of Monte Acuto, Logudoro, northern Barbagia and Gallura. The involved municipal districts are Olbia, Arzachena with Alà dei Sardi, Berchidda, Bitti, Buddusò, Loiri-Porto San Paolo, Monti, Oschiri, Padru, Pattada, Telti.

Monte Acuto

The Acuto Mountain is a wide territory set in the south of the Gallura region. Its name derives from the homonymous mountain that rises south from the Limbara Mountain, on which a now abandoned castle became of meaningful historical importance in the medieval Sardinia, due to its strategic position.

Logudoru

Logudoru is situated entirely in the inland south of Sassari, reaching as far as the peaks of Gogeano, which forms the natural border of the province of Nuoro. This region of green hills and valleys contains numerous, and easily accessible, tokens of the past; archaeological sites, charming Romanesque churches, often situated in isolated spots on the hilltops, or the local villages, the economy of which is usually based on dairy production.

Barbagia

Barbagia, land of Barbarians, was the term used by the Romans to indicate that difficult kingdom of warriors and herders, proudly hostile to any kind of foreign intrusion. The unspoiled beauty of this territory, the richness of ancient traditions make this place an unique one. Those who appreciate a rest from driving may take a trip on a truly unforgettable excursion to discover the tallest peaks of the Gennergentu massif (1834 m) and explore the rock-strewn pastures, the woods of holm-oak, bay oak and juniper as well as the forest of alder along the riverbanks.

Gallura Region

Gallura occupies an area of a few thousands square kilometres in the Northeast of Sardinia. Though small, it is a region of great interest, to be explored thoroughly - from its most remote parts, as yet untouched by tourist structures, to its most popular spots and the favourite haunts of elite tourism. The whole area is a wealth of atmospheres, colours, aromas and tastes - each different from the other and in many cases unique. The archipelago della Maddalena, consisting in 7 beautiful islands such as Maddalena, Santo Stefano, Caprera, Spargi, Budelli, Santa Maria and Razzoli, the blue and emerald green of the sea that washes the coastline with its cliffs, inlets and the finest and whitest sand of its beaches and islets with its numerous bays. Enchanting also the many-faceted inland, a coloured enriched landscape favoured by nature. To this already rich palette of colours are added the many different shades of green - the woods, cork forest and the Mediterranean bush.

Costa Smeralda

Created on the Aga Khan's initiative during the sixties, the Costa Smeralda became symbol of the Italian elite tourism, having in Porto Cervo its most popular centre. Numerous wonderful beaches such as Capriccioli, Liscia Ruja, the enchanting bays of Romazzino and Cala di Volpe as well as the beach of the Prince, so named because it used to be the favourite one of the founder of the Costa Smeralda. Finally the "green" of the Pevero Golf Club.

4.1 The involved municipal districts

Olbia

Olbia was built in the 4th century BC by the Carthaginians and is now an important airport centre as well as a known harbour city. Thanks to a natural port that boasts over 2500 years of history Olbia became since centuries an important commercial port of the island. Corso Umberto, a street full of life and bustling with activity, displays to passers-by the Art nouveau-style Town Hall. In front of Olbia, in the homonymous gulf, the impressive island of Tavolara, a 565 m tall limestone massif that reminds a gigantic iceberg.

Altitude over the sea level:	10 m
GPS	Lat. 40°55'20"64 - Long 09°29'11"76

Arzachena

Arzachena is situated on the side of a hill. Its old centre has grown up around the little 18th-century church of Santa Maria Maggiore, alongside which stands the parish church of Santa Maria della Neve, also built in the same century (1776). There is no doubt about the region's ancient history, just a few kilometres from Arzachena are two different testimonies of an ancient past: the nuraghe of Albuicciu and the Tombe dei giganti (megalithic tombs). The first, is one of the better preserved in the Gallura, if you consider that it was built more than 3500 years ago. The second were collective sepulchres.

Tempio Pausania

Dominated by the heights of Mount Limbara (1359 m), Tempio Pausania, was built on the remains of the Roman town Gemellae and during the 13th century capital of the ancient Judicature of Gallura, is situated on a plateau rich in vineyards and cork forest. Its economy is based on cattle farming, cork processing and wine growing yielding renowned brands of Vermentino and Moscato. The extremely well conserved houses in the old part of the town, were built of grey, unplastered granite, encompass the little squares, concealing large inner courtyards and small gardens or scented kitchen-gardens. The sober charm of the centre is enhanced by the 18th century parish complex formed by the cathedral of San Pietro, the church of Santa Croce and the oratory of Rosario, while in the upper side of the city you may find the water source of Rinaggiu, well known also in the past for the therapeutic characteristic of the diuretic water.

4.2 The economic impact of the Rally d'Italia Sardegna on the territory

If the Rally d'Italia Sardegna has reached such a current prestigious position, it is also thanks to the extraordinary charm of the Sardinian territory, sceneries that seem to be designed in order to accommodate the fascinating spectacle of the Rally. After four editions, the Rally can be considered Sardinia's most important sporting event in terms of tourists bed-nights and revenues. The Rally d'Italia Sardegna continues to be a formidable showcase for tourism promotion and valorisation of the Sardinian territory in a strategically important moment, like the second decade of May, oriented to a medium-high tourist target. As per an accurate data collection made by the Organization (interviews of Tour Operators, hoteliers, spectators and operating staff on the territory), the Rally d'Italia Sardegna 2007 has generated the following important results:

- Arrivals: 10,664
- Average stay: 5 days
- Bed-nights: 53,321
- Increment of bed-nights compared to the first edition in 2004: 35%
- Medium expense per person (restaurant, extras, car rental, etc) € 100 daily
- General business turnover : € 10,233,000

The Rally d'Italia Sardegna is a spectacular event, followed by Italian most important TV Channels, and transmitted with high quality coverage by RAI and Mediaset, Pan-European circuit of Eurosport, Italian networks, as well as by the main Italian and foreign satellite channels. Sporting reportage, TV live broadcast, TV specials, pictures of the race and of Sardinia broadcast worldwide.

More than 20 hours television broadcast have been produced in Italy during the sporting event in 2006, generating 62 TV specials with a share of 22 million viewers. The Rally d'Italia Sardegna has been followed by 50 million viewers in 196 countries all over the world.

Most significant, finally, the results obtained from the official Rally web site (www.rallyitaliasardegna.com) that registered more than 5 million on-line visitors during May, and more then 20 million visitors from december 2005 until november 2007. An incredible platform of visitors and Rally fans all over the world surfed the web site, with its graphical winning home-page. The web site displayed worldwide pictures of the race, update classifications, news and press releases accessible to everybody, the event program and detailed special stages. It also contains a complete archive of results and classifications, as well as a photo gallery where people may follow all editions through numerous pictures of the stages, the protagonists as well as of the enchanting landscape.

13.4 Accreditation criteria of FIA WRC Events [“Rally by Rally” International Media]

Editors of publications are asked to conform to the following principles to ensure that media accreditation is restricted to professional journalists and photographers.

1. The FIA considers the “Media” pass to be a working tool to be used only by bona fide members of the press. Publishers, marketing personnel, sub-editors, staff of the publication’s secretariat, etc. cannot be accredited as Media.

2. The FIA only accredits publications:

- a) with a minimum circulation whose size and quality fulfil the criteria of the FIA;
- b) with a format and quality which fulfil the criteria of the FIA;
- c) which are on sale to the public.

Club and internal magazines of companies, trade magazines and newsletters cannot be accredited as Media.

3. TV and radio, websites and other electronic media must send their application to:

International Sportsworld Communicators (ISC)

Accreditation Service
The Annex
Mayward house
46-52 Pentonville Road
LONDON N1 9HF - UK

Telefono: +44 (0)20 7584 7584
Fax: +44 (0)20 7278 3753
E-mail: accreditations@iscrally.com

4. Under no circumstances will advertising, public relations agencies or similar companies and organisations be accredited as media, nor will the Organisers issue any accreditation to representatives (press officers or otherwise) of sponsors, suppliers, engine suppliers, teams, drivers, etc.

5. The FIA WRC Media Delegate may accept requests from teams with seeded drivers for the accreditation of press personnel, with a maximum of one person per team.

6. The FIA will only accredit press from outside the country in which the event is held.
National press must apply to the National Press Officer (e.g. German press applying for the Rally Deutschland should apply to the National Press Officer, while press from countries other than Germany should apply to the FIA).

7. FIA Permanent Credential Holders requesting a Substitute and/or an Additional Pass, must apply to the FIA.

8. The central and local offices of the major international press agencies (AP, AFP, Reuters, ANSA, UPI, DPA, LUSA, BELGA, Jiji, KYODO, EFE, Press Association, SAPA, Australian AP, APA, etc.) will always be accredited by the FIA.

Accreditation criteria

The FIA will allocate annual permanent Media accreditation to publications intending to publish reports for every FIA World Rally Championship event during the season.

Press passes can also be allocated on a rally-by-rally basis to general news, specialist, business and lifestyle consumer publications that do not intend to publish conventional rally reports but whose coverage is considered to be of promotional benefit to the sport.

Usually, a maximum of two representatives (journalists and/or photographers) per publication may be accredited for any one round of the FIA World Rally Championship. Agencies are subject to the same requirements as publications.

All applicants must fulfil the following basic criteria:

Coverage

For a daily newspaper, a substantial amount of coverage for each event is required.

For example, an introductory article in the Thursday edition, follow-up articles in Friday, Saturday and, where applicable, Sunday editions, plus a rally report in the Monday edition.

For a weekly or monthly publication, a substantial amount of coverage for each event is required and a major portion of the overall content should be on the subject of WRC.

Quality

The highest standards of fairness and accuracy are expected as a minimum quality requirement from the press.

Circulation

Accreditation decisions are based on the relative 'media market' in the country of the applicant. As such, the usual minimum circulation for a national weekly or monthly publication is 20,000 copies. For a national daily the minimum circulation is 50,000 copies.

Publications must be on sale to the general public via retail outlets (trade, club or internal company magazines will not be accredited).

Freelance journalists must apply for credentials via their own agencies. The onus is on the freelance applicant to prove the supply of regular stories to at least five publications.

Photo agencies must be able to prove that the pictures have been regularly sold to publications matching the FIA criteria and have been paid for at the normal commercial rate. A publication must be able to prove that the pictures published are the original work of the publication's accredited photographer.

Permanent accreditation procedure

(omissis)

Rally-by-Rally accreditation procedure

For rally-by-rally passes, the FIA will only accredit press from outside the country in which the event is held. National publications must apply via the event's national press office. National publications which are accredited on a permanent basis and wish to apply for additional or substitute passes must apply directly to the FIA.

Applicants must submit sample proofs of coverage to the FIA External Relations Department at the latest three weeks prior to the first day of the event (Wednesday 23rd April).

Publications or agencies applying for a rally-by-rally photographer accreditation must supply evidence of independent coverage of a minimum of 15 pictures per pass issued at each event they have been accredited for in the previous year's Championship. The number of international press photographer passes will usually not exceed 30 at each event.

Promotional photographers for teams, sponsors, etc. who do not comply with the above criteria may apply for accreditation to ISC (address below).

13.5 FIA WRC photographers' accreditation - Press Accreditation

Publications or agencies applying for a rally-by-rally accreditation must supply evidence of independent coverage of a minimum of 15 pictures per pass issued at the same event the previous year.

Publications or agencies which were not accredited the previous year may submit their publications which will be considered individually based on the intended coverage and the promotional benefit to the sport. It must also be shown that:

- i. In the case of an agency, pictures have been regularly sold to publications matching the FIA criteria and have been paid for at the normal commercial rate;
- ii. In the case of a publication, published pictures are the original work of the publication's accredited photographer.

Accreditation decisions are made by the FIA WRC Media Delegate and Photographers' Delegate according to the following procedures:

1. Applications must be received at least three weeks prior to the first day of the relevant event and should be sent by registered post to the following address:

FIA External Relations Department

Accreditation Unit (WRC)
8, Place de la Concorde
75008 Paris
France

2. Applications which are late, incomplete, or sent by fax may not be considered.

3. Requests must be sent with the accreditation form and a formal application letter written on the publication's letterhead. This letter must be signed by the editor or a senior member of the editorial staff. Requests signed by clerical staff will not be accepted.

This letter must include:

- a) the name(s) of the representative(s) who will be covering the event(s);
- b) the photocopy of the official national press card(s) (where applicable) of the representative(s) who will be covering the event(s);
- c) the job title(s) of the representative(s) (journalist(s) and/or photographer(s);
- d) information on the publication (such as circulation, readership, frequency, etc);
- e) an original copy of the publication;

At the beginning of October, Meridiana inaugurated one more daily link from Milan-Linate to Paris-Charles de Gaulle, increasing the number of destinations that the national Airline connects to Paris, Naples, Catania, Palermo, Cagliari and Olbia.

Meridiana, with its fleet currently made up of 21 airplanes, 17 Airbus MD82 and 4 Airbus A319, is located at Olbia. Here, maintenance takes place in the two hangars belonging to Meridiana Airlines; also the training staff and courses are to be held in the Training Centre.
